

I can explain what a writer is trying to say, as well as analyse the methods they use and the effects on me as a reader.

I can speak clearly to present my own ideas,
and to explore other people's.

I understand that texts can often have a range of different interpretations.

I plan my writing so that I express ideas in a clearly structured way using language tailored for a range of audiences and purposes.