

I refine my artwork by selecting and experimenting with a range of materials and processes.

I take great care over the presentation, form and function of my artwork

I develop my own ideas by investigating other artists or designers who have responded to similar themes

I create meaningful and personal artistic responses to a variety of starting points.