Key Points

- SMHW continues to be the main portal for distance learning. All links/resources/Microsoft team invites will be published on this platform.
- Subject sessions are now supported by further teacher instruction/explanation and resources are available for 48 hours.
- *For further academic support, an online Q&A forum is available for each subject session timetabled. To access this, email your question(s) to the member of staff listed below at the time advertised above.
- Weekly tasks continue in creative and practical subjects with individual deadlines. For questions on flexible weekly tasks, e-mailing in the afternoon is preferred where possible.
- If there is any 'free' time on the timetable (due to your option choices) please continue with the weekly tasks set.
- Also remember that revision is available at <https://senecalearning.com/en-GB/> or the CLF online learning portal has lots of subject specific learning resources <https://learn.clf.uk>.
- Future Plans: We are currently exploring the use of Microsoft Teams to offer live Q&A forums and masterclasses in the near future. More information on this will follow.
